Potential Course Outline for Psychology Major Interested in Law School

* There are multiple potential pathways to prepare you to apply to, get into, and succeed in law school. This document is intended to indicate courses we currently offer within the psychology major that are considered especially relevant by the professors who teach them. As always, there are unique reasons to take courses at specific times, so please discuss your plans with your academic advisor.

Key:

- Courses in bold have been recommended as relevant to assist you on your path toward graduate school in clinical psychology or a career related to clinical psychology by at least one professor who teaches that course.
- Courses in bold and italics are additional potentially relevant courses.
- Where relevant it indicates which courses should be taken before others. (Please note: These are not the official pre-requisites for the course; these are just recommendations from the professors who teach these courses. Please make sure you have satisfied the official pre-requisites as well.)
- Courses that are not in bold are other courses that are offered within the major that may or may not be relevant to your specific goals and interests.
- All courses are listed numerically within each set of courses; specific courses to take will depend on your goals and interests as well as which courses are available to enroll in.

Take these two courses as soon as possible:

Psy 201: General Psychology

Psy 202: Statistics for Behavioral Sciences (Take with Psy 201 if possible or the next semester)

Take courses from this set of courses as soon as you are allowed to take 300-level courses and have taken Psy 201:

Psy 301: Developmental Psychology

Psy 309: Learning

Psy 311: Abnormal Psychology

Psy 320: Cognitive Psychology

Psy 321: Social Psychology

Take courses from this set of courses as soon as you have taken at least 3 courses from the list above and once you have taken the relevant pre-requisites and additional recommended courses (in parentheses after some courses).

* Psy 315: Personality

* Psy 317: Tests and Measurements

* Psy 322: Drugs and Behavior

* Psy 323: Applied Behavior Analysis (It is helpful to take Psy 309 first, but not required)

* Psy 324: Science of Emotion
Potential Course Outline for Psychology Major Interested in Law School

Psy 327: Psychology and Law

Psyc 340: Multicultural Psychology

Psyc 401: Undergraduate Internship in Psychology

Psyc 405: Minor Research Problems

Psyc 417: Disasters and Mental Health

Psyc 420: Readings and Research in Psychology

Psyc 430: Positive Psychology

Psyc 460: Psychology of Human Sexuality (It is recommended to take Psy 321 plus the official pre-requisites)

Psyc 565: Psychology of Gender

Additional potentially relevant courses

Psyc 100: Orientation to the Major

Psyc 110: Seminar in Psychology

Psyc 203: Self Management for Your Personal Life

Psyc 215: Psychology of Instructional Technology

Psyc 303: Intermed. Statistical Methods for Psy

Psyc 308: Industrial Psychology

Psyc 313: Experimental Analysis of Behavior

Psyc 319: Brain and Behavior

Psyc 326: Sensation and Perception (It is recommended to take Psy 319 & Psy 320 first)

Psyc 350: Ecopsychology and International Youth

Psyc 365: Environmental Psychology

Psyc 390: Lab in Psy: Behavioral Neuroscience

Psyc 392: Lab in Psy: Experimental Social Psy

Psyc 394: Lab in Psy: Cognition and Perception

Psyc 396: Laboratory in Psychology

Psyc 410: Health Psychology

Psyc 415: Introduction to Clinical Psychology (It is recommended to take Psy 311 first)

Psyc 419: Psychology of Parenting (It is recommended to take Psy 309 first)

Psyc 425: Advanced Abnormal Behavioral Psych & Lit
Potential Course Outline for Psychology Major Interested in Law School

Psy 451: History and Systems of Psychology (It is recommended to have as many psychology courses prior to taking this course as possible. This is a great course to take during your last semester or to help you prepare for the Psychology GRE.)

Psy 455: Special Topics in Psychology

Psy 470: Children and Families: Community Work (You have to take Psy 301 or Psy 419 prior to taking this course but having both prior to this course is especially beneficial.)

Psy 475: Topics in Psychology Abroad

Psy 511: The Neural Basis of Learning & Memory